NUMBER 189.

ELLIOTT IS PARDONED.

Noted Life Prisoner Draws an Elegant Fourth of July Prize.

A CONDITION IS ATTACHED.

Governor Bushnell Releases one of Principals in Famous Columbus Murder Case on His Promise to Leave the State.

Columbus, O., July 4.—Governor Bushnell has granted a conditional pardon to W. J. Elliott and he is now on his way out of the state.

The pardon was handed to Elliott and he was at once escorted to the union station according to promise by Warden Coffin. The pardon was written by the governor himself and the seal placed thereon with his own hands, the object evidently being to prevent the employing of the official knowledge that such an instrument had been issued. The document sets out that William J. Elliott was convicted at the April term, 1891, of the Franklin county courts, of the crime of murder in the second degree. The condition is in the following language: "That he immediately on his release leave the State of Ohio and never return thereto."

On the back of the pardon is the following indorsement: "Ohio penitentiary, July 4, 1899. In pursuance of the provisions of section eighty-nine of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, I hereby accept the conditions named in the within warrant under penalty of forfeiture of the pardon for a violation of the same. (Signed.) William J. Elliott. Witness, Frank Koehne, clerk."

As soon as Elliott was dressed he was taken in a buggy by Warden Coffin to the union station, where he was met by his entire family and P. J. Elliott. The meeting of the prisoner and his family was very affecting. They talked about 15 minutes before the train left, Elliott being accompanied by his wife.

Elliott informed Warden Coffin that it was his intention to remain in Chicago, where he has partially completed arrangements to engage in business of some kind. However, his first act will be to go into a hospital and have his injured eye removed. The eye was injured by W. W. Varney throwing a brick in his face several years ago. Varney was given a ten-year sentence for the crime, notwithstanding the fact that he always denied that it was an intentional crime. Varney died at the prison about two years ago. In event that the Chicago scheme fails, he will go to Washington City to live. One report says he will go to Los Angeles.

W. J. Elliott was convicted for killing Albert Osborn on the 22nd day of February, 1891, on High street, in front of what is now the Goodale hotel. P. J. Elliott was in company with him when the shooting occurred and on meeting Osborn the shooting commenced. At the time a Washington birthday procession was passing and several persons on the street were injured. P. J. Elliott was struck in the back by a spent bullet, but W. J. Elliott escaped without a scratch. Osborn was shot in the mouth by a bullet from the revolver of W. J. Elliott and was afterwards shot in the body while laying in the hat store near the Goodale by P. J. Elliott. The evidence showed that W. J. Elliott had his hands on the shoulders of a young lady while he was firing at Osborn.

Before leaving Elliott prepared a long statement expressing thanks for his liberty and praising the devotion of his wife and family and other friends. It was issued to the "warden and my late fellow-prisoners."

News From the Newark.

Washington, July 4.—The navy department received a dispatch from Commander Goodrich, of the Newark, at Valparaiso, saying that the Abarenda sailed from there for Samoa. She carries a steel wharf and sheds in sections to build a coaling station at Pago-Pago. This is the first news received by the department from the Newark since she narrowly escaped being blown into the Antarctic regions when running out of coal near the straits of Magellan.

Solution For Belgium Troubles.

Brussels, July 4.—The members of the Right in the chambers have unanimously agreed to the government proposal referring the electoral bills to a committee of all parties. The Left has also assented with a resolution limiting the time of the committee's deliberations. It is believed that this will solve the trouble or the present.

Drowned in a Park Lake.

Columbus, O., July 4.—Albert Loudenlager, 30, stereotyper, was found dead in Goodale park lake. It is not known whether he suicided or drowned accidentally.

TRAIN WRECKED

Five Persons Injured in a Railroad Disaster Near Leadville.

Leadville, Col., July 4.—The section of Denver and Rio Grande passenger train from the west was wrecked eight miles west of this city. Nine persons were injured, but none of them seriously, so far as known.

The train was running over the Colorado Midland tracks on account of the washout on Denver and Rio Grande. The wreck was caused by a broken rail. The injured passengers were brought to this city.

Objection to Burke.

London, July 4.—A dispatch from New York, which has appeared in the sporting papers announcing the disqualification of Burke and Quinlan from competing in the college athletic contests, has caused comment in university athletic circles. C. H. Jackson, the bursar, of Hartford college, Oxford, who has charge of the Oxford-Cambridge team, is quoted as saying: "Oxford or Cambridge would never have entertained, on such insufficient evidence, the raising of any objection to Burke's amateur status. Undoubtedly, in 1895, when the New York and London Athletic clubs contested, if the newspapers were correct, Burke transgressed the racing rules as recognized in England."

The Fourth in Havana.

Havana, July 4.—The streets of Havana are ablaze with bunting. Flags largely predominating and the Cuban colors a good second. The consulates are all flying their own flags. A majority of the business houses on Obispo and O'Reilly streets have, besides flags, other colored decorations, giving the city an animated and festive appearance. Two Spanish flags flaunt proudly above the Spanish club and though no store has laid in a supply of fire crackers, the American boys here are making their presence felt to the astonishment and wonder of the local police who are asking instructions regarding arresting those found firing "bombs" in the streets.

Big Deal of Coal Lands.

Pittsburg, July 4.—One of the largest coal deals ever made along the Monongahela river has just been closed at Uniontown. The deal involves about $1,200,000 cash and 10,000 acres of coal, extending from Rice's landing to Big Whately Creek, Green county. The property has a river frontage of 18 miles and is between one and two and a half miles wide. The purchasers are Fayette county capitalists, but it is said that an eastern syndicate is behind the deal. The same persons purchased a block of 4.85 acres of coal on the Fayette side of the river last week for $400,000 cash.

The Czar to Flies.

St. Petersburg, July 4.—While refusing to receive the Finnish deputation the czar has issued a rescript declaring that when he ascended the throne, he took up the sacred duty of watching over all the people under the Russian sceptre and deemed it well to "preserve to Finland the special fabric of internal legislation conferred on it by my mighty forefathers." His majesty then expressed the hope that the loyal devotion of the Finns "would be proved to the satisfaction of their governor general."

Satchels of Gold.

Victoria, B. C., July 4.—The evening train brought in another hatch of Klondikers laden with about $250,000 in gold dust. The most conspicuous packages were those of V. W. Haywood of Vancouver, who had 180 pounds in an old satchel bound with ropes. This dust was taken from Mr. Haywood's claim on Hunker creek, he says, which is turning out very well. Another package of 127 pounds was tied up in a blanket, and was carried by J. G. Canyon of Baker City, Or.

French Reciprocity.

Washington, July 4.—With the return of Ambassador Cambon of France negotiations were resumed on the Franco-American reciprocity treaty. This is probably the most important of all the conventions under consideration at the present time. Much progress has been made, and but little remains but the determination of the articles on which this government will grant concessions in return for the entire minimum schedule which France has conceded on her side.

Large Mill Burned.

New York, July 4.—The large plant of the Beacon Light Lamp company at New Brunswick, N. J., was totally destroyed by fire. The loss is about $1,000 and is partially covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown. No one is known to have been injured.

Not Taxable.

Seattle, Wash., July 4.—In the federal court Judge Hanford decided that the capital stock of a bank is not stock for taxation purposes until its issuance has been duly certified and authorized by the controller of the currency.

TAMMANY CELEBRATES

Great Demonstration In Honor of the National Birthday.

THE SENTIMENT FOR BRYAN

When One Orator Declared In Favor of the Noted Silver Advocate Leading the Party He Was Heartily Cheered.

New York, July 4.—The Fourth of July was celebrated under glorious weather conditions, with much noise, merrymaking, a profusion of flags and excursions and sports of all kinds. It was stated that there were more fireworks sold and more excursion boats running than on and previous Independence day, and therefore the police and fire departments had more than their usual troubles. Tammany Hall celebrated with formal exercises in the wigwam. Joseph J. Willett, president of the Alabama Bar association, made the oration of the day. He was followed by ex-Congressman Asher G. Caruth, of Kentucky. Among the other speakers were James D. Richardson, of Tennessee, Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo; Thomas F. Grady, of this city; James W. Ridgeway, of Brooklyn; William E. Gourley, of N. J.; A. Gaston, of Pennsylvania, and Cevy Holman, of Maine. There was a musical program by the Sixty-ninth regiment band and the Tammany Hall Glee club.

General Joseph Wheeler regretted his absence from the Tammany celebration in the following letter:

"I regret very much that I cannot be present at the anniversary of your society whose existence is co-equal with that of our government. When your ancient society was formed we were young, struggling, and, as regarded by the world, weak nation. We now stand among the first of the powers of the world and we can truly say that this young nation whose existence commenced a little more than a century ago has exercised an influence in the cause of civilization, progress and humanity such as has not been done by any other nation since the beginning of the history of man."

Ex-Governor James S. Hogg, of Texas, was responsible for the sensation of the day. "We Democrats will go to the next convention," he said, "advocating as before the unlimited coinage of free silver and gold at the ratio of 16 to 1." There was loud cheering at this. Ex-Governor Hogg said Democrats in 1900 would denounce trusts, favor the income tax, granting of Cuban independence, and the construction and maintenance of the Nicaraguan canal and denounce imperialism and government by injunction.

"With these principles, we will go into battle confident of victory," he declared. "But we want the support of Tammany, the greatest of all political organizations and above all we want to go into the fight under the leadership of William J. Bryan."

As Governor Hogg uttered the name of Mr. Bryan, the cheering was deafening and continued.

During a slight lull somebody proposed a cheer for Van Wyck, but the crowd failed to take it up.

Senator Thomas B. Grady made a stormy attack on the state civil service commission and upon the examination questions set by it.

Message From Croker.

New York, July 4.—The following cable dispatch from Richard Croker, who is in London, was received at Tammany hall: "Congratulations on the glorious Fourth, the day we celebrate. My heart is with you always. Let us rejoice over the coming triumph of Democracy and the people's rights."

American Ensign Saluted.

Plymouth, England, July 4.—The presence here of the United States training ship Monongahela was the occasion for an interesting ceremony in the harbor at noon. All the British warships were decorated with flags and the American ensign was run up to the mastsheads and saluted with 21 guns, to which the Monongahela responded.

Celebration the Fourth Abroad.

London, July 4.—The Americans abroad are celebrating the Fourth with great enthusiasm. The American flag is displayed in nearly every capital of Europe. In Berlin many members of the American colony are starting on a special steamer for a picnic on the river Spree. There will be dancing and fireworks in the evening.

From Havana.

New York, July 4.—Among the passengers who arrived on board the steamer Havana, from Havana, were Rear Admiral B. J. Cromwell, Lieutenant J. F. Stephens and General Carlos Garcia.

CAPTAIN DREYFUS

Continues to Improve Notwithstanding His Confinement in Jail.

Rennes, July 4.—Maitre Labori paid another visit to Captain Dreyfus at 10 a. m. remaining with him until noon.

The lawyer found the prisoner to be in even better spirits than Monday and in the resistance Dreyfus has shown to the frightful blow he suffered in the judgment of the courtmartial and his terrible existence on Devil's Island combined with his marvelous recuperation of physical and mental strength, since he left Cayenne, Maitre Labori saw the strong proofs of his innocence. Counsel was almost joyful in appearance on leaving the military prison and beyond doubt his interviews with Dreyfus have given him the most favorable impression respecting the outcome of the courtmartial. Dreyfus spent some time studying the documents relating to the Esterhazy and Zola trials. Maitre Labori during the conference explained to him the obscure points. Dreyfus was naturally astonished at many incidents and at the attitude of various persons since his deportation.

Madame and Mathieu Dreyfus are to see the prisoner. Maitre Labori will again visit him.

Open Strike Abandoned.

Pittsburg, July 4.—The open strike campaign at Homestead has been abandoned and emissaries of the Amalgamated association have adopted the plan of making a house-to-house canvass of all the men employed in the plant. It is claimed that a secret effort is being made to keep the men at home and cripple the mills to such an extent as to bring about a complete shutdown. If there is a good showing the fight will be pushed. If not there will be a throwing up of hands. Among the citizens and business men of Homestead there is a feeling that the movement is a failure, but the leaders maintain a mysterious air and say it will be well to watch for developments within the next 48 hours.

Conference With Kaiser.

Berlin, July 4.—Prince Herbert Bismarck's visit to Travmunde is early discussed. His enemies say that the kaiser refused to receive him. The Kleine Journal, which pretends to have special court information says the audience was prolonged, that Prince Bismarck refused the Washington embassy for private reasons, but said he would be willing to accept the London embassy. The truth is that the audience took place behind closed doors and the kaiser took the opportunity of hearing Prince Bismarck's opinions on politics in general and especially on the canal bill.

Arrested For Counterfeiting.

Pittsburg, July 4.—United States secret service agents arrested five men here on suspicion of being implicated in a counterfeiting scheme. It is said that certain parts of the city have been flooded with bogus dollars and the secret service men claim that the men under arrest know something about it. One of the prisoners is supposed to have spurious coin with a face value of $1,500 hidden within a few miles of Pittsburg. It is alleged that those who made the coins sold them at the rate of $7.50 for $100 worth.

Put Their Complaint In Writing.

Cleveland, July 4.—The street railway men's union drew up in written form their complaint that the Big Consolidated Street Railway company is not living up to the agreement upon which the recent strike was settled and presented it to the special city council committee that negotiated the settlement. The union held an all night meeting and decided not to strike again, but leave the matter in the hands of the committee.

Strikers Are Orderly.

Sharon, Pa., July 4.—The strike of the blast workers' furnace at Sharpsville still continues. The operators have been scouring the country for men to take the places of the strikers. One official stated that he expected 500 men to be sent to Sharpsville before the latter part of the week and they would be put to work upon their arrival. The strikers are orderly and say that they will make no trouble unless foreign labor is imported.

Hearing Against Beer Trust.

Cleveland, July 4.—The hearing was begun in suit of Attorney General Monnett against the Cleveland & Sandusky Brewing company, otherwise the Brewing trust, to ascertain whether it can be smashed under the anti-trust law of the state. The principal witness was George H. Gund, of this city, president of an independent brewing company who described the methods used to destroy competition.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 4.—Miss Dorothy L. F. Wheeler, of New York city, who was seriously burned during the Windsor hotel fire in that city March 7, died here. She was the daughter of Mrs. A. W. Wheeler, of New York city.

TRIBUTE TO GRATIUS.

Ambassador Andrew White Eulogizes the Holland Patriot.

OBSERVANCES OF FOURTH.

American Delegates to the Peace Conference at the Hague Place a Wreath With Appropriate Inscription on Tomb.

Delft, Holland, July 4.—There was a picturesque and impressive ceremony at the Nieuwe Kerk. The church was filled with delegates, diplomats, high officials and ladies. The ceremony began with a chorus singing Mendelssohn's "How Lovely Are the Messengers That Bring Us Good Tidings of Peace," after which A. P. Van Karnebeck, ex-foreign minister and head of the Dutch delegation of peace conference who presided at the ceremony, briefly outlined its nature.

He said: "Nowhere has the conference met with heartier sympathy than in the United States and it is as a token of this feeling and acknowledgment of the reception of the conference by the Netherlands that the American delegates, in the name of their government, desire to pay tribute to the memory of Hugo Grotius. In order to give this additional significance they have chosen for its accomplishment their great national feast day."

After the national hymn of the Netherlands had been sung Andrew D. White, the United States ambassador to Germany, and head of the American delegation to the peace conference, in a long, scholarly address paid an eloquent tribute to Grotius, "to carry whose ideas are assembled delegates from all nations."

Mr. White added: "I feel that my own country unites not only in her gratitude but in that of the civilized world."

After tracing Grotius' work and the effect of his ideas, Mr. White said: From this tomb of Grotius I seem to hear a message to go on with the work of strengthening peace and humanizing war, and above all, to give the world at least a beginning of an effective, practical scheme of arbitration."

At the end of his address Mr. White laid on the tomb of Grotius, in behalf of his colleagues, a wreath of silver, oak and laurel leaves, bearing the inscription: "To the memory of Hugo Grotius, on the occasion of the peace conference at The Hague, in reverence and gratitude from the United States."

The wreath was three feet in diameter, and was in a big beach case ornamented with silver, bearing the inscription: "To the government of the Netherlands from the United States on the occasion of the conference of 1899."

The names of the delegates to the peace conference follow: The address of acceptance was made by Dr. W. H. De Beaufort, the minister of foreign affairs and president of the ministerial council of the Netherlands. He said:

"Today's ceremony will make a deep impression throughout the country. We Hollanders are proud of our country, its glorious history and the memory of our great men. We are pleased to see them appreciated by foreigners and the citizens of a country for which we have such respect and regard. We are closely connected with the historical traditions of America. The first settlers on the banks of the Hudson were Hollanders and we shall always remember with a certain pride that it was a Dutch captain who first saluted the stars and stripes. Now we salute your star-spangled banner in our own country. Your country is one of the largest in the world, ours is one of the smallest; but we have one thing in common, which is, we both won our country and its independence by our own valor."

In conclusion, Dr. Beaufort said he hoped the ceremony and wreath would act as a stimulus to future generations in their exertions in behalf of further reforms in international law and that the wreath would be an everlasting emblem to the historical friendship of America and Holland.

President Seth Low, of Columbia university, and a delegate to the conference, in returning thanks, said:

"We do not make light of what we owe to England, but we gladly admit that we owe in a large measure to the Dutch many of the things which we count as most precious in our heritage."

The ceremony concluded with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

THE PRESENT CAMPAIGN.

Senator Goebel Believes the L. and N. Railway Company Will Try to Secure Control of the Next Legislature.

[Enquirer.]

Senator Goebel, the Democratic nominee, spent a quiet day in Covington Saturday. He will remain at home resting until the middle of the week, and will then make a trip through the State to confer with some of the Democratic leaders concerning the coming campaign. Senator Goebel said to an Enquirer man:

"It is certain that in the approaching election in this State the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company purposes to repeat so far as it can the work it did in the campaign of 1896; and its efforts will this year be directed not only against the Democratic State ticket, but also to controlling the General Assembly. It will endeavor to control nominations of Democratic candidates for the Senate and House of Representatives.

"It hopes in this way, when the Democratic State ticket and a Democratic General Assembly shall have been elected, to thwart the enactment of the reform measures promised in the Democratic State platform. The Democracy of Kentucky should remember that all of the State reform measures promised in the platform just adopted in Louisville would now be upon statute book but for the fact that at the last session of the General Assembly a few members elected as Democrats joined with the entire Republican membership of the General Assembly and voted against the enactment of those reforms. I refer particularly to a cheap school book law, an effective anti-trust law and a law reasonably controlling the corporations of the Commonwealth and preventing the levy of unjust charges and the making of unjust discriminations by them.

"The people of Kentucky cannot obtain from a Democratic victory this year that which they are entitled to have unless the nominations for the Senate and House of Representatives are made without reference to the influence and demands of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, the American Book Company and the American Tobacco Trust. Those concerns must be fought both within and without the Democratic organization in the making of nominations now as well as at the polls in November.

"And on this there is involved not only the enactment of the reforms promised by the party platform, but also the re-election of Joseph C. S. Blackburn to the Senate, and the maintaining in its integrity of the new election law, upon which depends the question whether in 1900 Kentucky's vote will be counted, as it will certainly be cast, for William Jennings Bryan for President, or whether that vote shall be again fraudulently taken from him as it was in 1896.

"The Democracy of Kentucky will sweep the State this year, and nothing ought to be permitted to prevent the carrying into full effect the declarations of the platform just adopted in Louisville.
